The old thermostat was a hunter 44760. New one is a 42999B. the old one had a "B" wire and the instructions with the new one don't say what to do with that wire. The only other wires not hooked up are the "C", which I understand should not be hooked up, and the "E" for which there are no instructions. I left the jumper on between the RH and the RC and hooked the R to the RC.
